

A Single-Minded Generation

"A Single-Minded Generation" is a compelling exploration of the forces shaping today's young leaders of substance and great men. This thought-provoking book delves into the psychological, social, and leadership influences that define a generation marked by unparalleled connectivity and unprecedented challenges. Through insightful analysis and personal narratives, the author illuminates the unique characteristics, aspirations, and focus of a generation striving for purpose and change. Whether you're a member of this generation seeking to understand it, or seeking to develop yourself, this book offers a profound and engaging perspective on what it takes to come of age in a rapidly evolving world to a level of self-satisfaction.

Rex .O. Raymond is the Founding Director of the Kenyan Innovative Leaders Foundation(KILF_KENYA), a youthful Leadership organization that mentors young people through Leadership coaching programs and communication with membership currently in 28 Counties in Kenya. He is also a Law student at Mount Kenya University Law Campus Parklands. Additionally, Rex is a Certified Public Speaker and a Speech expert.

As a thought Rex believes that Leadership Transformation must begin in the mind and by everyone being mentored early enough to start leading the change they desire from a personal level because everyone can be a leader.

A Single-Minded Generation

Rex .O. Raymond

A Single-Minded Generation

Rex .O. Raymond