

Loma, a mysterious stranger, arrived in Kurut, the poorest village in the Kingdom of Zonka, and quietly observed its struggles for over a year. Gaining trust by saving an elder woman, he was introduced to Chief Kadem, who assigned Lesi, a young girl, to help him. Loma's teachings improved health, inspired skills, and uplifted the village. Honored for his contributions, he declined to take Lesi as a companion but promised to continue sharing knowledge.

Loma later trained men to craft weapons and tools, transforming Kurut into a prosperous and well-defended village. Poverty vanished, trade flourished, and alliances were formed through a grand feast hosted by Chief Kadem. Loma and Lesi's friendship deepened into love, strengthened by his revelation of surviving a volcanic disaster. During a farewell feast, Chief Kadem ensured their union, marking a joyful conclusion to Loma's transformative journey in Kurut.

STRANGER FROM TULKAN

Children's Edition

A book by Erik Kinyanjui Ngaruiya
Copyrighted in 2025

ERIK KINYANJUI NGARUIYA